EN ISO 20471 was released in 2013, replacing EN 471:2003 A1:2007. As certificates are only valid for five years, this means that the last garments made to EN471 certification are no longer compliant. If you haven't updated your workers' high-visibility clothing recently, it's likely that you are not operating in compliance with EN ISO 20471, so now is the time to order replacements.
